Dear Frank: —

I don't know whether you are expecting a letter from me or not But I will write any way

I suppose you are O.K.

or I hope so any way. I am feeling fine quite a number of exciting things happened yesterday and of course I had them all to witness. One thing that happened the 1 o'clock car killed a large hog at the crossing and I had to view the corpse and another thing was to see the dog kill a big mud turtle that was real funny. I was at Mandes' yesterday.
You said that I only believed $\frac{1}{10}$ of what you said I think I believe little more than that But how could I believe all when you don't mean for me to look at what you put in my letter You was certainly 'bididin' me and I know it. But I was awful glad to get your letter just the same.

Well here is hot by this time! I am going to look for you Sunday
if you don't come here before then But I might be jilted now for all that I can tell I haven't see you for so long,
awaiting to hear my fate!

As ever
Peg.
