Tuesday Morning

My dear Janet,

I suppose you received my last letter but slow^{ly} answering.

You and Mary Ann are having a nice time playing together now. I suppose you have patched up all your troubles and as good friends now as you always ^{were} ~~was~~.

Well, our Children's Day Program is over. Nannie was in it but I wasn't. Last year I was the queen in our play and had a long part to learn so this year I said I would not be in it and I wasn't. Marion R. had the leading part in one play and a minor part in the other. (I'm glad I wasn't her). She was so dumb she couldn't learn her part so she had to read it (Suck's life).

Janet, please come down

Friday morning and go to 4-H with me in the afternoon you see many of the kids in our room. Have your dad or Elsie bring you down. I think you could come as the corn is all planted (or at least it ought to be). Well, I suppose I had better close as the irons are on the stove waiting to be used. Boy. I hate to work, but it is always necessary.

Your true pal

P.S. Come down Friday if at all possible if you don't come at least answer my letter.
